

PRESS RELEASE: DAVID ROTH CONCERT AT ORMOND UU ON JAN. 17.

Inspirational singer/songwriter David Roth will perform at the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Ormond Beach at 7 pm on Wed., January 17. A Chicago native, David honed his craft in Greenwich Village and now resides in Cape Cod. David's inspirational work has been recognized by the likes of Peter Yarrow (of Peter, Paul & Mary): "David has reached our hearts. With voices like his still singing, there's a certainty that the candle will remain lit, the hope reasserted and the dream still sung."

More specific in detailing David's virtues is James van Pelt of the New Haven Folk Alliance, who says: "David's pure, smooth voice, unsurpassed instrumental ability, incredible humor, and heart-piercing, intelligent lyrics brought folk music, New Age, comedy club, coffee house, and a bit of heaven all together in one unforgettable evening."

Local singer/songwriter Dan Gribbin will open for Mr. Roth. The concert is a fundraiser for the Unitarian Universalist Congregation, which is located at 56 N. Halifax Dr., Ormond Beach, FL 32176. Tickets: $10. Limited seating. Call 386-956-1813 for reservations.
