If you Vote by Mail in Florida, here's what you can do to track your VBM ballot and ensure that your vote counts.

If your ballot was rejected because your signature was missing on the return envelope or it does not match the signature on file, you are permitted to mail, fax, email, or hand-deliver to your SOE your signed affidavit, along with a copy of a permissible form of identification.

Update your Signature When you vote by mail, your signature on the outside of the ballot certificate envelope needs to match the signature that is on file with the elections office. In order to ensure your vote by mail ballot is accepted, contact your local Supervisor of Elections to confirm and update your signature as soon as possible. ### Track Your Ballot

1. If your County Supervisor of Elections (SOE) has a method to track your Vote by Mail (VBM) ballot on the Supervisor's website, track your ballot to ensure that it was received.
2. Contact Your Supervisor of Elections: If your Supervisor does not have such a system, within 3 days of mailing your VBM ballot you should contact your SOE to confirm that your ballot was received.
3. If Your Ballot Was Rejected: If you find out that your VBM ballot signature was not accepted, the SOE is required by law to tell you the exact reason why -- whether it was because there was no signature on the return envelope or your signature does not match the signature in the Supervisor's files.

"The supervisor shall, on behalf of the county canvassing board, immediately notify an elector who has returned a vote-by-mail ballot that does not include the elector's signature or contains a signature that does not match the elector's signature in the registration books or precinct register. The supervisor shall allow such an elector to complete and submit an affidavit in order to cure the vote-by-mail ballot until 5 p.m. on the day before the election."
See F.S. 101.68 (4)(a).

You Have a Right to Remedy Your Ballot:

If your VBM ballot is rejected for a missing or mismatched signature, under Florida law the SOE must provide you with an opportunity to cure or remedy the problem, including updating your current signature that is on record by means of your 'cure' affidavit.
